ASSASSINATED.

Mayor Carter Harrison Shot
Down in His Home.

The Crazy Assassin Arrested, and Acknowledges His Awful
Crimes.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Carter H. Harrison, five times Mayor of the city of Chicago, was assassinated at his home in this city at 7:50 o'clock to night. The murderer, who is undoubtedly demented, is Eugene Patrick Prendergast, a paper carrier on Mr. Harrison's journal, the Times, and who lived at 600 Jane street. The assassin, who was pursued to a police station, said that he had killed the Mayor because he had promised him the corporation counselship of the city of Chicago and had failed to keep his word.

In a moment Mr. Harrison stepped from the parlor into the hall. In an instant the man had drawn a revolver and fired, the shot entering the abdomen just above the navel. Two more shots rang out an instant later, the first of which entered the Mayor's body under the left arm, penetrating the heart. Mr. Harrison, when the first shot was fired, had started toward the door, and the second shot struck him within a foot of the muzzle of the revolver when the third shot was fired that the bullet shattered one of the knuckles of his left hand and the powder burned the flesh.

Mr. Harrison's coachman, who was in the rear of the house when the first shot was fired, ran into the hall and fired three shots at the man as he started out of the front door. The murderer paused for an instant, turned about, and fired a parting shot at the coachman. He then ran down the front steps and passed rapidly north on Ashland avenue.

Mayor Harrison after the last shot was fired, stepped in the parlor and started toward the dining room. He had taken but a few steps, however, when he reeled and fell into the butler's pantry, which led to the rear of the house. His son, Preston who was upstairs at the time of the shooting, ran down and was at his father's side in an instant.

Mr. Harrison said: "I am shot. Preston, can not live. Where is Annie?" Mr. Harrison hastily left his side and rushed out upon the street in pursuit of the assassin.

In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. W. Chalmers, who live across the street, had started for the Harrison residence as they had heard the shot. They saw a man running up Ashland avenue and met the son, Preston, in pursuit. Young Mr. Harrison stopped long enough to inform his neighbors of the terrible affair and then started on in pursuit of the murderer. Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers hastily entered the house, Mr. Chalmers at once making a pillow of his overcoat, which he placed under Mr. Harrison's head.

"I have been shot and can not live," said the Mayor, as he gasped for breath.

"You won't die," said Mr. Chalmers, "you have only been shot in the abdomen."

"No, I have been shot in the heart, and I know I can not live," was the reply.

These were the last words of the Mayor. He immediately became unconscious and died at 8:25 o'clock.

The murderer, pursued by the coachman, ran along Ashland avenue toward Monroe at a breakneck pace. Coming to Monroe street he turned to the east and started for the city. The pursuer who had been reinforced by an officer and several citizens, gained rapidly on their man. On they sped until Desplaines was reached, when the hunter man again turned to the north and in a few minutes had reached the Desplaines street police station.

He walked in and approached the Sergeant at the desk. He was about to speak when the foremost of his pursuers rushed breathless into the station. "Look that man up," said the coachman. "He has killed Mayor Harrison."

In an instant the Sergeant was out from behind his desk, and catching hold of the man's arm, pulled him within the wire enclosure, as though to protect his life from a crowd, which was gathering with astonishing rapidity. With waiting to register the prisoner he was quickly taken back and placed behind the bars. The station was then cleared of the excited people and the Sergeant went for a talk with the prisoner.

"My name is Eugene Patrick Prendergast," he said in response to the first inquiry.

"Do you know that you have killed Mayor Harrison?" said the Sergeant.

"Yes, and I am glad of it," was the answer. "He promised to give me the corporation counselship, and has not kept his word.

"Where do you live?"

"At No. 600 Jane street with my mother," said the prisoner.

When the news of Mayor Harrison's assassination reached the downtown streets immense crowds gathered around the newspaper buildings reading the bulletins posted from time to time with eager interest. The building occupied by the time of which Mr. Harrison was proprietor, is at the hour the gathering place of the most excited throng, and murmurs against the life of the assassin are heard on every lip.

Carter H. Harrison was in Fayette county, Kentucky, in 1823, and in 1855 he went to Chicago and in 1871 his political life commenced, when he was elected County Commissioner.

In 1887 he was first elected mayor of the great city, and has since been elected four times.

He was shortly to have been married to Miss Annie Howard, of New Orleans, Nov. 7th, was the day fixed for the marriage.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 29.—Patrick Eugene Prendergast, the crank who last night assassinated Mayor Harrison, is in secret custody, the place of confinement being known only to the police. There is no longer any fear of lynching, but the higher officials of the police department thought it best to be on the safe side and at 7 o'clock this morning Prendergast was removed quietly from the central station where he was first confined to one of the outside police stations.

Up to the time of his removal Prendergast maintained the sullen, defiant and indifferent attitude that he had shown ever since he gave himself up to Desk Sergeant Barber at Desplaines street last night.

Despite the assertion of Dr. Eidlitz, the Prendergast family physician, that the assassin had never shown any indication of mental aberration, there is no doubt in the minds of those who have seen and conversed with him that he is insane. His actions for several weeks past confirm this supposition. He has been writing threatening postal cards to various city officials, he has threatened the life of the Mayor in the hearing of Mr. Graham, the Mayor's Secretary, he has demanded that Corporation Counsel Krauss should resign in his favor, and his whole conduct has been that of a man mentally unbalanced, whose mania, taking a homicidal turn, settled upon Mayor Harrison as the imaginary author of his wrongs.

In Chicago today there is a universal feeling of sorrow and horror, but public indignation no longer threatens to vent itself in the form of an attempt at lynching. It is realized that the parallel which was at first drawn between the assassination of President Garfield by Guiteau and the present murder is not a true one. Guiteau was a disappointed office-seeker, who had some qualifications and some claims to office. He was a monomaniac, it is true, but he was undoubtedly responsible for his actions. Prendergast, however beyond doubt a lunatic pure and simple. He had studied and read cranky economic theories until his mind gave way. He imagined that he was a reformer, he had schemes for the betterment of all mankind. He was especially interested in the welfare of Chicago and imagined that he alone could reform the abuses from which the city is suffering. He was especially bitter in his denunciation of the railroad grade crossings, which are responsible for many deaths every year, and the idea became fixed in his mind that if he were made corporation counsel he could solve the problem of elevating all the railroad tracks within the city limits. Long brooding over the subject bred the delusion that the mayor had promised him the office. He haunted the municipal building and annoyed the city officials with his crazy demands.

Finally he determined that the Mayor was acting in bad faith with him. This idea grew upon him. He thought of it day and night. His diseased brain was incapable of entertaining any other idea. At last he determined to demand from the Mayor himself satisfaction for his imaginary wrongs. He had now reached the homicidal stage. He bought a cheap second-hand revolver, put it in his pocket and called at the Mayor's residence. Mr. Harrison, accustomed to the vagaries of all sorts of cranks, treated his demand lightly. Prendergast killed him that is the story.

EIGHTY-SIX AWARDS.

Kentucky's Agricultural Display
at the Fair Secures Creditable Recognition.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Kentucky's agricultural display has received several awards, and they are creditable to the State. They were distributed among the various products as follows: Tobacco, 7; hemp, 15; wheat, 9, corn, 32; seeds and grasses, 23; making a total of eighty-six awards in this department alone. This will make a total of something over 200 medals which Kentucky has received so far. The live stock men alone have carried away seventy premiums during the summer. The mineral exhibit obtained thirty medals, and the forestry department was equally successful in securing the favor of the judges. The awards in the educational display, the horticultural show and the manufactures department will be announced during the early part of next week. There is one of Kentucky's exhibits, however, which did not receive the favorable notice of the jurors. A long list of State buildings was recently given out, the architects of which will receive medals from the World's Fair. In this list the Kentucky building was noticeable by its absence.

The Board of Lady Managers deny as false a statement recently published saying that Secretary Carlisle had been forced to pay for a reception given in his honor at the Woman's building. They say there is not a word of truth in the story, that the reception was decidedly informal, and that the bill would be paid by Congress, just as all other bills incurred by them would be paid.

Caldwell County News.

The banner says:
"A good deal of business has been done in the circuit court in the past week, things being especially lively on the criminal side. The Commonwealth's Attorney, Mr. John L. Gray, has caused to be prosecuted on the fact that he has secured a conviction in every case that has come to trial except one."

The following were the convictions: Fate Hobbit, for the murder of Page Stokes, penitentiary for life.

W. H. Jones fined $25 for carrying concealed weapons.

Sam Chambliss was fined $260 for wounding in sudden heat and passion.

Amon Malone was fined $50 for giving liquor to a minor.

John T. Jackson was fined $50 and costs for breach of the peace.

Tem Pruitt was fined $5 and costs for breach of the peace.

Gus G. Terry was fined $25 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon.

Lizzie Jones was given one year in the penitentiary for grand larceny.

E. L. Sands was fined $350 in each of two cases for violating the prohibition law.

W. T. Gresham was ordered to pay over to the trustee of the jury fund the sum of $50, the amount of the forfeited bail bond of Bob Dunn.

The case against John Jackson on an indictment returned at this term of the court for detaining a woman against her will was put on trial.

The evidence was commenced the jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary four years.

George F. Batlett and Miss Laura Williams were married at the home of the bride on North Jefferson street at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the presence of near relatives and a score or more of intimate friends. It was a quiet home wedding. The couple, unattended, walked into the parlor at appointed time and, surrounded by the guests, took the solemn vow. The ceremony which was beautiful and impressive, was spoken by Rev. Joseph Luman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. A few minutes were spent in congratulations, when all retired to the residence of Mrs. Adelle Catlett, mother of the groom, where a reception was tendered and a supper of tempting and delicious viands served.

The groom is employed in the mechanical department of the Banner, a position he has held for a number of years.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alex. Hopper. She is a beautiful girl possessed of all the charms and graces calculated to bring sunshine and happiness to the life of her companion. We join their many friends in extending congratulations and wishes for a long and happy life.

BURNED TO DEATH.

The Horrible Fate of a White
Female Tramp at Eddyville.

Built Her Own Funeral Pyre
While Drunk.

Eddyville, Ky., Oct. 25.—An unknown white female tramp, was burned to death at a camp fire in the woods near the depot last evening during the severe wind storm which swept over the section. This terrible accident was not known until this morning, when some passersby discovered the remains of the poor woman lying near the camp fire, which was not burning, having been extinguished by the deluge of rain which poured down last night. Her clothing was entirely burned off her shoes and a portion of her stockings. So badly roasted was her flesh that it cracked open all over the body. She appeared to be a woman about 35 or 40 years of age. The features of her face, though swollen, could have been easily identified had she been known in the vicinity.

Shortly before dark the woman was observed to build the fire. She was very drunk and had two bottles of whiskey then in her possession. This morning the bottles were found not far from where she passed her last agonizing moment. It is evident that while under the influence of liquor, perhaps heavily drunk, the wind came up and she being near the fire the flames spread to her clothing and being powerless to render herself any assistance she burned to death before she scarcely knew it. Her struggles with the flames must have been of the most horrifying character as her lower limbs were drawn up, her arms outstretched and eyes literally popped out of their sockets.

Those who viewed the remains in the woods this morning were horrified over the terrible fate of the unknown female tramp.

AN ADVANCE FOR WOMEN.

The Franchise To All Adults In New Zealand.

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—News came from New Zealand by steamer yesterday that the electoral act has been passed by the Legislature of the Colony, giving the franchise to all women over twenty-one years old. It is believed the woman's voting power will strengthen the Conservative party who oppose the revolutionary projects in regard to land-holding. The temperance party also hope to get aid from the women. It is expected a large proportion of the women will appear at the polls. If the experiment is successful, it will probably be adopted by other colonies. Of the 688,650 people in New Zealand, nearly one-half are women.

MRS. BOYCE WINS HER SUIT.

Awarded Judgement for $3,000
Against the Illinois Central.

Bardwell, Ky., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Boyce was awarded a verdict of $3,000 in the Circuit Court here to-day against the Illinois Central railroad for injuries received at this place a few weeks ago. She came in on the night train and undertook to get off with her two children without assistance. The conductor refused to assist her. The conductor said that he was sick that night, and forgot the woman until after passing the station. The train made only a short stop, and with no assistance the woman was unable to get off the steps before the train started. The case will be appealed.

TOLU.

Health generally good.

Henry Moore is improving. Quite a number of our people have been attending the Niles and Smith meetings at Elizabethtown, Ill., and report a very interesting meeting.

KILLED HER LOVER.

Tragic Climax to a Scandal
In Omaha High
Life.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 27.—The climax of a scandal in high life was reached last night when Mrs. Rudiger, a prominent and handsome society leader, walked up to Henry J. Reiser on a busy thoroughfare of South Omaha, fired a bullet through his brain and followed the murder with an effort of self-destruction.

The victim of the tragedy was a well known young single man and a member of a number of popular Omaha societies.

It was 8 o'clock when three shots from a heavy calibre revolver started the hundreds of people passing the corner of Twenty-fourth and J streets. Immediately following the reports the bodies of a man and woman, handsomely dressed, fell to the pavement.

The excited woman gazed at her awful work and placed the revolver at her head and pulled the trigger. The ball grazed her hair and dazed her. The woman talked freely of what she done, and continually asked: "Is he dead yet?"

"Yes, I shot to kill," said Mrs. Rudiger. "It was for my husband to do, but he would not, and so I did it myself. The wretch has given me enough cause, and I hoped I have accomplished what I undertook."

The woman on to relate some of her experience with her victim.

"I have known Mr. Reiser for about two years, but intimately for only about one year," she said. "I loved the man at first and do not deny it, my conduct has worked on my mind until I concluded to make a clean breast of it to my husband. I did so, I then wanted Mr. Reiser to admit our relations to my husband, in order that he might get a divorce. This Mr. Reiser refused to do. He denied everything to my husband. Reiser used to talk to me about running away with him, but of late he had not. As we were about to separate he again refused to make a confession to my husband. I drew my pistol, which I had in my pocket. When he did not stop or turn around I fired to strike him. When he fell I placed the weapon at my own head with the intention of ending my life and completing the tragedy. I'm sorry I did not succeed. I am too good a woman to die for such a find as he was."

The woman wrote a long letter a few hours before the tragedy in which she explained that her seducer's influence was the result of mesmerism power. He had thus introduced her illicit relation, and she could only break the spell by killing him, which she preferred. She is now in jail, but declares that she will yet kill herself.

Literary Notes.

It has been out that, with the December number, the personal equation will be eliminated from Fetter's Southern Magazine, and that popular periodical will be known in the future as The Southern Magazine. Gen. Paul W. Duke continues as its able editor-in-chief, with Mr. Opie Reed as associate editor.

The Southern Magazine is truly representative of the best culture of the entire South, and is growing in favor with each issue. It is published by the Southern Magazine Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

GOOD NEWS FOR ASPIRANTS.

Secretary Carlisle Will Resume
"Turning the Rascals Out."

Washington, Oct. 25.—It is announced at the Treasury Department to-day that Secretary Carlisle, feeling confident that the silver fight is ended, will now address himself to accumulated departmental business. There are 300 Presidential offices under the Treasury Department in which no changes have been made. These include such important places as Collectors of Customs, Collectors of Internal Revenue, Surveyors of Customs and United States mint officers. Actual vacancies exist already to the number of forty, and other officials, while they have not actually resigned, have signified their willingness to do so when requested, which will swell the vacancy actual and prospective to sixty-five or seventy. As each appointee will have from five to 150 employees under him, the Secretary will exercise great care in making recommendations for appointment.

DISTRESSING SUICIDE.

The Daughter of Ex-Attorney
General Garland Putsa Bullet
Through Her Heart.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Miss Daisy Garland, aged twenty-three years, daughter of Ex-Attorney General Garland, committed suicide at her home here this afternoon by shooting herself through the heart with her father's revolver.

There was nothing in the young lady's condition this morning to indicate any mental disturbance, and she conversed with the family in regard to a theatre party which she was to give tonight. Afterward she went to her room, and at luncheon time one of the family went to call her. The young lady was found lying on the floor dead. The body was still warm, indicating that the shot had been fired only a short time previously, though no one in the house heard the report.

Miss Garland is the young lady who recently left home mysteriously and who found in Baltimore three days afterward. Miss Garland's friends say she has been subject to mental aberration and lately has been suffering from religious melancholia.

A TENNESSEE EDITION.

Announcement That the Courier-Journal Will Start a Morning Daily in Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 27.—It is reported here on authority apparently reliable that Mr. W. N. Hableman of the Louisville Courier-Journal, will start a morning paper in Nashville. The new paper is to have the United Press service and the special service of the Courier-Journal, furnished by a special wire from Louisville. It will be a sort of Tennessee edition of the great Kentucky journal.

CIGARETTES AND PISTOLS.

Prohibition For the One and a License For the Other.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 27.—The Georgia House of Representatives to-day passed a bill prohibiting the sale of cigarettes in the State.

A bill was also introduced to-day licensing the carrying of pistols under certain restrictions.

Twenty-nine Children.

Mrs. Samuel Bennett, of Tanner, Gilmer county, W. Va., gave birth to her twenty-ninth boy a few days ago. Mrs. Bennett is only 46 years old. Her husband is 53. The twenty-nine boys are all alive and hearty. This is the largest crop of children in any one county in that prolific state. Unfortunately the Bennetts are Republicans, and if this sort of things continues the democratic majority in the above state will be in danger.—Exchange.

H. Clay King's Occupation.

The silver agony is over.

Sam Nunn deserves well of his party.

Sam Nunn is making a gallant fight.

There are too many cranks, Prendergast may be crazy, if he is he ought to be sent to join Guiteau.

Judge J. Crips Wickliffe, of Bardonia, will succeed A. J. Gross as Adjutant General of the State.

The Democratic National Platform said repeal the Sherman silver law. The boys are a little slow, but they are getting there by and by.

The campaign in Crittenden has not been as heated as usual, consequently there is a greater stock of good humor in the county than usual.

President Cleveland and Senator Hill are jogging along together, and who knows but that the New York Senator may catch the pace of the Presidency yet.

When the mists have cleared away it will be found that the last Legislature did some pretty good things after all. Its greatest sin was its refusing to expire at the proper time.

It is some consolation to know that the assassin of Carter Harrison was indicted by the grand jury the second day after his awful crime. Proceed with the trial, and then the hanging.

Let everybody stick strictly to the truth from now until the polls are closed. Lies just prior to the election are the meanest lies on earth. They can never be corrected until it is unnecessary or too late.

Polls close at 4 o'clock.

At the session of the Presbyterian Synod of Tennessee in Chattanooga yesterday a report of a conference committee from the Southern and Northern wings of the church providing that the Presbyteries of the two synods make overtures to the General Assembly favoring a union of the two churches was adopted.

The Press has earnestly advocated the election of Miss Wheeler because it believed that her promotion to the office of School Superintendent would be a recognition of substantial merit, because she would take to the office an experience in practical educational matters that would make her at once of incalculable value to the schools of the county, because it would be a step towards moving the great cause of education away from partisan influence, that are ever growing stronger and stronger, sacrificing everything else to its blind fury and destroying desire for supremacy.

The office of School Superintendent is compatible with all of the refined, gentle and tender ways of woman; its duties would prove pleasant and light to one so fully equipped for the work as Miss Wheeler.

Election next Tuesday.

The Webster county Herald relates the following, which if true, proves that all of the practical patriots are not dead yet: "The Democrat John D. Price when he came home from the legislature donated to the school fund of this county all the money he drew from time that he was absent from his seat, but Porter is still hanging to his unearned money."

There are lots of men very patriotic with their mouths, but the member who sacrifices the rotundity of the pocket is so infinitesimally small, that Mr. Price deserves to be remembered.

Polls close at 4 o'clock.

The Times will pay a reasonable reward for citation to any financial proposition that has come before Congress since the death of Mr. Beck, four years ago, on which Senator Blackburn has voted in accord with the vote of his associate Senator. So far as we have observed he uniformly negated Senator Carlisle's votes, just as he has neutralized every vote cast by Senator Lindsay. If he has been right all the time, it follows, as night follows the day, that Carlisle and Lindsay have been wrong.—Louisville Times.

Election next Tuesday.

Ex-Deputy Collector Walter P. Shaw, of Louisville, was tried in the Federal Court last week upon a charge of violating the civil service law by soliciting money from Government employees for political purposes. He was found guilty. The punishment may be two years imprisonment or a fine of $5,000 or both.

Polls close at 4 o'clock.

Maj. Clement is a good man. No man will ever run a vote cast for him. He is firm, solid, safe and sound. He is well versed in legislative matters, and will know how to vote for the interest of the people on any and all measures.

Ex-Collector of Internal Revenue, Scott, of Louisville, was acquitted last week of the charge of signing fraudulent vouchers.

The Princeton Banner of last week says: "Sam Nunn will carry this county by a safe majority."

George Armstrong will be hung in Spencer county December 1.

Mr. Demaree's Successor.

Rev. A. J. Hess, of Columbus, Hickman county, has been elected grand reporter of the Knights of Honor to succeed the late J. A. Demaree. Mr. Hess is a prominent Baptist minister and successful evangelist. He has held nearly every office in the grand lodge and was a past grand dictator at the time of his election. He will move to Louisville next month to take charge of his office.

A few years ago in one of the humble homes of Crittenden county—a home not of downy rugs and bright pictures, a home not of pleasant pastimes nor gay festivities, but a home where labor brought the daily bread, and frugality was a bare necessity—a little girl did her share of every household duty, laboring here and there, with industrious hands while a light heart made the tasks easier. The work was not fancy stitching, nor delicate sketching nor merry music lessons; it was akin to the genuine toil. When a leisure hour came the girl devoted it to a book; little by little her knowledge increased, and with it came the thirst for more. In the little log school house three winter months were spent and with them came ambition. Seed time and harvest came again with all their hours of busy toil; they were not shirked, but thoroughly imbued with the good old doctrine that those who must labor, our indomitable spirit was always at her post; no moments were lost, when the manual task was done, the book was a companion. A few years go by, the little girl is a young woman; she is teaching in our public school; the knowledge necessary to procure a certificate was not gained in this academy or that college, but home study, and the free school were her opportunities. She improved them, soon she is recognized as one of the best teachers of the county. With money earned in the school room, she gets the advantage of a training school, and then her claim as a superior teacher, her devotion to the cause is cheerfully recognized by all. After teaching some of the best schools in the county, arousing an interest in education wherever she taught, many of her friends, call upon to become a candidate for Superintendent of the schools of the county. Moved by a laudible ambition to fill a place of honor and trust, she consents and now asks the people at her native county, irrespective of political affiliations, to test her ability as an official. No one disputes her ability, none can gainsay the adaptability of her accomplishments for the office. Her earnest, long and successful toil, against such odds, shows how true she will be to the trust, and every chapter of her life tells the story of merit, while her strong face, pure character, untiring energy and great store of fine common sense commend her to the favorable consideration of every voter in the county. She is the candidate of no party, the nominee of no faction, her election could not be heralded as the down fall of this or that faction or party; it would be the triumph of a deserving woman, a breaking away from some old fogy ideas, the beginning of a new era in office seeking in Crittenden county. No more befitting occasion could be selected; it is Columbus year, let us commemorate it in Crittenden by materially remembering the generosity of Isabel to Columbus, and the way do it handsomely is to elect Miss Wheeler.

Hurrah for Miss Wheeler and any and all of Crittenden's fair and plucky girls who are demonstrating that they are as capable and deserving as the bipeds called men.

Election next Tuesday.

To Colonize The Negro.

Washington, Oct. 30.—A committee of colored lawyers, appointed by the recent convention of colored people at Chattanooga, has arrived here to urge before congress an appropriation of one billion dollars for colonizing the negroes.

Election next Tuesday.

Miss Mina's friends came to me and showed ever disposition to do the fair thing, and neither Mr. Keys, or his party, were in the least discommoded by the time consumed by the other candidates, nor do we hold ought against Miss Mina, or anybody else in the matter.

Mr. Keys really cared very little about speaking and was in no wise disappointed nor in the least offended.

RAILROAD TAXES.

Important State Suit Decided in the Court of Appeals.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 16.—In the Court of Appeals to-day an opinion written by Judge Hazelrigg was handed down in what are known as the railroad-bank cases. In 1884 the Legislature, wishing to encourage the building of new railroads, exempted from taxation for the first five years of their existence all roads to be built or begun thereafter. In 1886, two years later, the Hewitt act was passed, and repealed the exempting act. Railroads begun and built in those two years and since then have been claiming their five years' exemption from taxation, all of which culminated in suits for State taxes against the Owensboro and Falls of Rough and other railroads in this State. All were decided by the Franklin Circuit Court against the State, the court ruling that all the roads involved were entitled to the five years' exemption. Now the Court of Appeals reverses a large part of this judgment and affirms part of it. In other words it holds that four roads were entitled to the five years' exemption and that no taxes were due from them when the suits were instituted, while against twelve the State is entitled to recover a part or all that is sued for. The court holds that roads begun in good faith during the two years that the exempting act was in force are entitled to the five years' exemption.

FRIGHTFULLY HURT.

A Young Ballard County Saw Mill Hand's Serious Mishap.

A frightful accident occurred last Friday at a saw mill near Northington's store in Ballard county in which young James Holman, a son of Mr. George Holman, of Ballard county, came near losing his life. As it was he lost one hand and one foot. He was standing on the saw carriage and stooped to tie his shoe when the carriage suddenly started backward. Before he had time to get out of the way the saw struck him and saved off one arm just below the elbow and also one foot at the ankle. The accident occurred before the victim realized that he was in any danger. Dr. B. T. Marshall, of Woodville, was summoned and the young man's wounds dressed. At last accounts he was resting as well as possible under the circumstances.—Paducah News.

A CARD.

To All Whom It May Concern.

I am informed that there is a report being circulated in portions of this county that on last county court day, on which day the county candidates and Hon. B. C. Keys were killed to speak, that Miss Mina Wheeler made a long speech on the subject of education and her candidacy for School Commissioner and took up all the time, consequently depriving Mr. Keys from making a speech, to the disappointment of Mr. Keys, and disapproval of his party and others.

Now, in justification to the subject and all those who may be concerned, I will make the following statement of fact:

Miss Mina's friends came to me and showed ever disposition to do the fair thing, and neither Mr. Keys, or his party, were in the least discommoded by the time consumed by the other candidates, nor do we hold ought against Miss Mina, or anybody else in the matter.

Mr. Keys really cared very little about speaking and was in no wise disappointed nor in the least offended.

THE END REACHED.

Mid Music and the Roar of Cannon the Great Fair Closes.

The Wonder of Nations Goes Into History.

World's Fair Grounds, Oct. 30.—In harmony with the World's Fair city's sorrow came the closing of the World's Columbian Exposition today, as directed by the United States Congress.

At sunset, 4:45 o'clock, the colors of all nations, which have been flying at half mast since sunrise on Sunday, were lowered together as they were unfurled within sight of President Cleveland at noon May 1. Six months, with the exception of a day, have passed, and the glory of the Exposition has been woven into the history of the World's progress. At the word of command from artillery officers the guns of a battery facing the blue waters of Lake Michigan belched forth a signal in blank powder telling the world that the World's Fair was dying with the setting sun—lying while dirges were being sung and tears shed and heads bowed in grief over the bier of Chicago's murdered Mayor. When the sunset hour arrived a hundred men stationed at every flagstaff of the Nation's colors on the departmental building stood ready to lower the flags and bars the poles which should tell to the visitors to-morrow that the Columbian Exposition was at the end forever.

I am yours truly, H.

HAMPTON.

Ed Press.—Through the columns of your paper of last week the writer noticed an article written in behalf of the prospective candidates for County Attorney of Livingston county in which the writer gave Mr. C. C. Grassham quite a send off, all of which may be due to him, but to the voters of Livingston county, the writer of this article would say that he is well acquainted with each of the three prospective candidates, and he would not for a moment question the ability or qualifications of either of the three gentlemen to fill the office with credit to himself and people. But I wish to call your attention to one of the three, Mr. W. I. Clarke, one whom the writer knows to be eminently qualified in every respect to fill the office. He is an old school teacher, having taught five years in the same place proves that he was a successful teacher. He was raised a poor boy, educated himself after he was grown; was for a number of years on the board of examiners. He is a graduate from the law school of Cumberland University, has law licenses for both Kentucky and Tennessee. The writer feels safe to say, that if the voters of Livingston county elect him, that they will never have cause to regret it and further that he will appreciate it as much as any one could, and if elected he will devote his entire time to the office.

In conclusion I only ask the people to carefully consider his case. He is a gentleman in every sense of the word, and well worthy of any duty you may bestow upon him.

NEW SALEM.

Died.—An infant child of of Jasper McClan last week.

Died at the residence of its grand parents, Mr and Mrs E B Franklin, Reed, eldest son of Mr and Mrs. Lawson Franklin.

Born to the wife of Charlie LaRue a daughter.

Born to the wife of Gid Taylor, a fine boy.

Born to the wife of Steve Tisdale a fine girl.

Born to the wife of Fred Brown, a daughter. A few precursors yet to be heard from.

Robert Threlkeld, Miss Gillian Watson, Mrs. Brouster, Mrs. Sarah Brown, and little daughter of William Sisco, are on the sick list.

Corn gathering has commenced. The yield is not as good as expected by the farmers.

Billie Davenport and Henry Brouster have returned from the World's Fair.

Mrs. Pass Stewart, of Emmaus is visiting friends in this section.

Mrs. Parsons, of Pinckneyville, is visiting her grand daughter, Mrs. Tisdale this week.

The election excitement is warning up for all it is worth, and from what we can gather among the boys.

Salio Mahan came very near getting killed last week by the falling of a tree on her that her brother was sawing down.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. Marion Thurman is the only colored man, from Crittenden, so far as we have heard, who attended the World's Fair.

FREDONIA.

There has been several weddings in this community in the past few weeks. Rev. M. E. Chappell preached his farewell sermon at Bethlehem last Sunday, and here at night. He has taken charge of the Paducah church. The M. E. Conference sent a splendid preacher here in the person of Rev. Lee. He has been holding a series of meetings here since the 24th of the month. He preached to men and boys exclusively last Monday night. He is zealous in the Master's cause.

While bird hunting last Friday John Ackridge fired at a bird and filled Charly Loyd's face full of shot and a shot entered each eye ball, and he will no doubt be blind for the balance of life, and perhaps may never be up again as he is in a critical condition.

There is a store in town kept open a good deal on Sunday and Sunday nights here, which is a violation of the laws of God and man. God will demand a strict account later on, whether the town officers do or not.

Mrs. Butler, of Salem, is visiting relative in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Frasier, of Caldwell Springs, is having a nice residence built in Kelsey.

S. C. Bennett has bought Ed Threlkeld's house in Kelsey and will move to it in March.

J. E. Plank's house if not finished on account of the Marion Lumber Co., being tardy about getting the lumber ready.

There is a vast amount of sickness in this vicinity, but Cook's "Flying Fly Kuoeker," is running all the same.

I guess the words "The World's Fair" has been printed and spoken oftener in the last six months than any other three words, since the creation of the world six thousand years ago or more.

There will ever long be a great deal larger gathering and stranger sight than have been seen in Chicago and very little is being said about it and very few are making arrangements for excursion rates.

The C P church will be completed soon.

John Hurl's house caught fire last Monday and came very near being burned but with water and help at hand it was saved without any very great damage.

D. T. Byrd vacated the dwelling he sold to John Wyatt on Wednesday, will soon locate in Fredericktown, Mo.

STRAYED OR STOLEN.—Strayed or stolen from my farm about three weeks ago, 5 head of steers, 3 of them red and 2 spotted. Marked swallow fork in right and under bit in left ear. Weight from 900 to 1100 pounds each. Will pay $5.00 for their return to me. C. N. Byrd, 18-2t.

The M E Sunday school in Kelsey is doing finely, 57 regular pupils.

J. T. Morgan has built a tenant house on his 9 acre farm.

A large crowd from Dogwood, Bethlehem, and New Bethel attended church here Sunday night, to hear the farewell discourse delivered.

Observer.

A Mr. Ed. M. Lebrer, of Paducah, has sued the Mayfield Mirror for $10,000 damage for defamation of character. The suit grew out of a publication in the Mirror in which the plaintiff was charged with being implicated in the stealing of a horse and buggy. Lebrer declares that the charges are wholly untrue.

A SAD AFFAIR.

Charles Loyd Accidentally Shot in the Face.
The Wound May Prove Fatal—Blind at Best.
One of the sad affairs in the history of our neighboring town, Fredonia, occurred Friday. Charles Loyd, a young merchant of that place was hunting quails with some other persons. A covey of birds was flushed, a gun was fired and the charge of small shot lodged in the face of Loyd, who was about seventy feet from the discharged gun. John Ackridge, a boy in his teens fired the gun. When the quails flew, the young sportsman forgot the presence of his companion and firing at the birds struck Loyd square in the face. Several of the shot struck square on the forehead, while others entered the eyes, and still others pierced the face at various places. The best of surgical attention has been given the suffering man, a distinguished oculist from the city to examine his eyes, and says that one eye is entirely destroyed and the other will never be of great value. While the unfortunate may may recover, grave fears are entertained about his condition. He is a son of Mr. Frank Loyd, a well known citizen of that section, and he is a prosperous young merchant, being engaged in the dry goods and drug business at Fredonia. The sad affair was purely accidental, and no one regrets more than John Ackridge, who fired the fatal shot.

Rev. Chappel Goes to Paducah.
The Paducah Standard says: "Rev M. E. Chappell, of Fredonia, Ky., has been secured by the Cumberland Presbyterians as pastor of their church to succeed the Rev. Fields, who resigned not long since. Mr. Chappell is by no means a stranger here, having conducted a successful revival last winter at the Cumberland Presbyterian hall. He will arrive in a few days and occupy the handsome parsonage now being erected on South Sixth street. His first sermon will be preached the first Sunday in November."
A JOLLY TIME.
Mine Host, Jas. Smith, of Crittenden Springs, Sets a Bird and a Possum Snapper.
It was a splendid affair. The "possum and latters," was delicious beyond description; the quail-on-toast was simply superb, and the "sulphur water" was sweetened and otherwise prepared to gratify the taste of anybody and everybody.
Monday evening about dusk a party of fourteen left Marion for Crittenden Springs, upon invitation of Mr. Jas. Smith, the manager of the Springs, to assist in the principal act of an "opossum and quail supper."
Opossums were there in all of their plenitude, and quails were there in coveys, and they were such "possums as only Crittenden county possums can claim for such occasions and quails as plump as they grow in that famous neighborhood.
The great dining room was festooned with the gay colors of the autumn leaves, wreathed with the wild vines, blushing with the first kisses of frost, and smiled with the beauty of the wild woods. No homage ever paid to salaried cook of king or potentate would do justice to the culinary arrangement of this occasion. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Dulancy superintended the preparation of the opossums and quails, and pencil is too short to adequately sing the praises of the deliciousness of such viands. After the glorious supper. Mr. O. M. James was chosen toast master and eloquent response to the toast were but little short of the famous poet prandial orations of Chaucer Depew. Properly lubricated with "possum gravy" the tongues of Gus. D. Craine, C. S. Nunn, Sam Gushen, J. N. Clark, Dr. Swope, A. C. Moore, C. J. Pierce, Jno Frauks, Wm Freeman, O. S. Young, H. K. Woods, W. D. Baird, W. D. Wallingford, command the language of all tongues, and handle sentiment as profusely as the whaleback handle passengers to the World's Fair, and their high flights of eloquence are exceeded only by the altitudines of the Forrie Wheel. It was a great occasion.

Mr. Robt. Woods, of Livingston county, was in town yesterday.
Miss Bertie Casidy, of Dycusburg, visited Miss Dora Clement, Sunday.
Mr. Lacy Threlkeld, of Paducah, who has been visiting friends in the county, returned home Sunday.
Mr. Rankin Hammond, who has been engaged at work in Evansville, Ind., for the past year, returned to his home in Marion Sunday.
Mr. P. E. Rowlett and little son, of New Concord, Ky., returned home Tuesday after spending a week with relatives in this county.
Mrs. Guthrie, wife of Rev. J. V. Guthrie, formerly the Methodist pastor here, visited Mrs. J. W. Freer last week, and returned to her home at Marion, Monday.—Eddyville Tale.
Rev. M. H. Miley returned from Virginia Saturday. The members of his church, and the people of Marion generally gave him a warm reception. He is popular as a pastor and as a man and all were glad to see him at home and well again.
Hon. L. H. James, the silver-tongued orator of southwestern Kentucky, was in town on legal business recently. Mr. James' great success and prominence as a lawyer are all the more remarkable when we remember that he had no early advantages whatever and could not read and write until taught to do so by his wife.—Elizabethtown (Ill.) Independent.
OF UNSOUND MIND.
Miss Emma Clement Sent to the Asylum.
Monday County Judge Moore held court to inquire into the condition of the mind of Miss Emma Clement, a young lady of the Chappel Hill neighborhood. The jury very readily decided that her mind was deranged and Monday night her brother, Charles, left with her for the Western Lunatic Asylum at Hopkinsville.
She has been to the asylum two or three times before. She has lucid intervals, sometimes of months duration, during which time her mind is more than ordinarily bright; she is not intelligent, but very smart. Twice when she came home from the asylum her friends hoped that a permanent cure had been effected, but in a few months the old trouble comes again.
McCants—Ellington.
Monday, Oct. 30, at high noon, Mr. Alx. McCants, of Pinkneyville, Ill., and Miss Mattie Ellington, of this county, were united in marriage. The rite was performed in the parlor of the Marion Hotel, Rev. James F. Price officiating. Some time ago the bride was a resident of Marion recently she has been residing temporarily at Cave-in-Rock, Ill. She is a beautiful woman and will make the home of the groom a happy one. She is such a genuine Kentuckian, that the trip from Cave-in-Rock Monday was made because she wanted to plight her vows on Kentucky soil. The groom is a prosperous insurance man of Pinkneyville, Ill.
After ceremony the party, consisting of the bride and groom and Miss Dixie Ellington and Mr. John Jack returned to Cave-in-Rock, from which place the newly wedded pair will go to their home at Pinkneyville.
ADDING SIX PER CENT.
The Unpaid Taxes Augment Wednesday Morning.
A visit to Sheriff Frank's office Wednesday morning found our good Sheriff and his industrious deputy hard at work. Spread before each was a big tax book, and with pen and ink the two officials were busy computing six per cent of every unpaid tax list. When the amount was ascertained it was carefully added in at the proper place on the tax book, and when the individual whose tax was unpaid on that day calls to settle he will find that his tax now six per cent from the date of business Tuesday until the beginning of business Wednesday. A great many receipts were written Tuesday and early Wednesday morning the tardy tax payer began to put in their appearance and call for their receipt; he got it but at the proper place he found the little addition.
Sheriff Franks estimates that up to Wednesday morning about three fifths of the people of Crittenden county had paid their taxes; consequently the other two-fifths will be collected by the law adding six per cent.

CUT COWBOY CAPERS.
Two Young Men Attempt to Bulldoze Smithland.
There was considerable excitement in Smithland last Saturday evening over the efforts of three young men named Al and Tom Edwards and Thos Rowe to override the authorities of the place and have things their own way. The three young men in question, it appears, recked the house of an old negro named Caroline Love and as a result a warrant was sworn out for their arrest. Saturday afternoon they went to Smithland and proceeded to get drunk. Town Marshal Seyster being apprised of their presence went to execute the warrant when the men defied him and declared they would not be arrested. One of them drew his knife and the marshal was forced to summon at least a dozen men to subdue them, besides drawing his pistol and using a club on one of them in a vigorous manner. They were, however, at last landed in jail. The belligerents are still in jail awaiting a hearing before Judge Clark.—Paducah News.

OUR WARSHIPS AT RIO JANEIRO.
The war in Brazil has caused a fleet of United States warships to proceed to Rio Janeiro. Among the vessels despatched to that city to protect American interests and prevent foreign interference in Brazil's affairs are the Charleston, Newark and Detroit, all modern ships, and the old wooden steamer Yantic.

Passed at Last.
At 7:20 o'clock Monday evening a vote was reached in the United States Senate on the Voorhees bill, repealing the purchasing clause of the Sherman silver bill, upon the final passage the vote stood 43 for repeal and 32 against it. The result was the logical conclusion of a long bitter fight. No matter what influence the measure may have upon the country, the end could not have been otherwise.
The Democratic platform denounced the Sherman law, the President convened Congress for the purpose of repealing it, the Democrats had a majority in Congress, and to have done otherwise than repeal would have been a square dodge or an open back down. After a long, free and fair discussion the measure is passed, and everybody is glad the middle has found an end. Grover Cleveland has the courage of his convictions, his convictions are enunciated in the Democratic platform, and who does not admire the firmness of the man's character.
Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold." There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quickly; no other is so certain a preventive and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough. For sale by Moore & Orme.

CHAS. A. GRAY DEAD.
Tragic Death of a Bright Young Man.
A great many people in Crittenden county, remember Chas. A. Gray. At one time he was a member of the Crittenden County Teachers Institute, and his witty speeches at once attracted attention. During the last general campaign for county officers he was for a while a candidate for County Attorney. He never ran through, but was in the canvass long enough to show that he had plenty of sense, and but for his one fault he could be a useful man. He was addicted to the use of strong drink, and when once he began to drink, he would go to any extremes to secure liquor. He had many friends who endeavored to lift him up and hold him, but all efforts were in vain. He is now dead. The Hardin County (Ill.) Independent, gives the following account of his death.
Chas. E. Gray, well known to many readers of the Independent, is dead. From rumors gathered, Mr. Gray came to his death in the following manner: On Sunday, Oct. 15, he visited a boat just across Saline Creek where the high and holy purpose of the Sabbath was converted to drinking and carousing. Mr. Gray spent all his money for liquor. He then pawned his coat for more, until at least he became helplessly intoxicated. He laid down on the ground just outside the boat and went to sleep. Late in the night the owner of the dive attracted by the moaning of the dying man, went out and dragged him into the boat, where he expired in a short time.
The coroner of Gallatin county held an inquest, and as we are informed, found that he came to his death by freezing. The remains of the deceased were interred in the Dutton cemetery late Tuesday, amid the tears and sobs of a broken hearted wife. He leaves a wife and two helpless children in destitute circumstances.

THE GAME LAW.

Sportmen Would do Well to Read The Following—Penalties For Violating It.

Having been frequently asked recently for information about the provisions of the game law, and being unable to give it, for the reason that the acts of the Legislature were not published and now having a copy of the acts in our possession we are glad to make known the following provisions of the law, giving only a brief synopsis.

1. "It shall be unlawful to catch, kill, pursue deer, or have same in possession after being caught or killed between March 1st and September 1st of any year.

2. To catch, pursue or have in possession any black, gray or fox squirrel between February 1st and June 15th in each year.

3. To catch, kill, pursue or have in possession after caught or killed any wild goose, wild duck, teal or any other wild duck, between May 1st and December 1st in any year.

4. To catch, kill, pursue or have in possession after caught or killed any wild turkey between February 1st and September 1st in any year.

5. To catch, kill, pursue or have in possession after caught or killed any woodcock between February 1st and August 15th in any year.

6. To catch, kill, pursue or have in possession after caught or killed any quail, partridge or pheasant between February 1st and October 20 in any year.

7. To catch, kill or pursue, or have in possession after caught or killed any dove between February 1st and August 1st in any year.

8. To, at any time, catch, kill, pursue or have in possession after caught or killed any nighthawk, whip-poor-will, sparrow, thrush, lark, flicker, martin, swallow, wood pecker, flicker, robin, red-bird, cedar-bird, tanager, cat-bird, blue-bird or other song or insectivorous bird except where same shall be destructive to fruit or grain crops.

9. To rob or destroy the nests of any wily bird whatever, save those of a predatory nature and destructive of game or insectivorous birds.

10. Any person guilty of violating any of the provisions of the nine preceding sections shall be fined for each offense not less than $5 nor more than $25.

11. The possessions of any of the animals or birds intended to be protected by this law, within the periods for which their killing or pursuit is forbidden, shall be prima facie evidence that such animal or bird was unlawfully caught or killed, and in the possession thereof unlawful.

12. Any person exposing any such animal or bird so exposed be fined not less than $5 nor over $25.

13. The unlawful killing, catching and possession of each and every animal or bird protected by this law shall constitute a separate offense, and two or more offenses may be joined in the same warrant or indictment and the person offending shall be fined for each offense—and any judge, justice or police or other magistrate, upon sufficient proof by affidavit of the guilt of any person of violating any of the provisions of this law, whether his name be known or not and whether he be permanently or temporarily in his jurisdiction shall issue a warrant for and cause his arrest and hold him under bail to answer such charge and upon reasonable grounds to believe that any such game is secreted out of season, shall issue warrants and cause any residence, house, market box or other place to be searched, and cause the arrest and trial of any person secreting such game or having same in his possession.

HETTY GREEN

Severely Plain in Dress, but the Personification of Shrewdness When Financial Transaction Involved.

Not a small part of the fame of Brooklyn can be laid to the credit of the remarkable woman who have lived and live now within its borders—women who have taken rank and honor in almost every walk of life. It is a well known fact that a very large proportion of the real estate of the city is held in the names of women. It is not a widely known fact that the woman who is reputed to be the richest in the United States lives in the City of Churches and right in the classic section known as the heights too. Her wealth is variously estimated at from $40,000,000 to $60,000,000, and her name is Mrs. Hetty Green. Her name and personality are more familiar to Wall street than they are to Brooklyn society. That is because Mrs. Green has been chosen to devote all her time to the manipulation of her fortune and has let society get along without her. Hetty Green at an Hippodrome ball would create a sensation indeed, but, but it is not likely that such an occasion will ever be recorded by society writers.

Hosts of people have brushed elbows with a shrewd and rather calm faced woman, apparently 50 years old, rather short, wearing a plain, old fashioned shawl and a bonnet so far beyond fashion's pale that one would never suspect it had been in it, even years ago. Nobody ever saw her in a dress which was not severely plain and seldom has she been noticed when she did not carry an old style and well worn black satchel. Her appearance would never cause the uninitiated to think that she was anything more extraordinary than an old fashioned woman of moderate means and simple tastes, who was on her way to the corner grocery or the bakery on the block below. Yet, if money is power, this same staid looking person is one of the most powerful human beings in the country.

In an old fashioned house on a corner in Pierrepont street Mrs. Green and her daughter Sylvia have lived for several years. The modest apartments they occupy are hired from a pleasant faced woman, who keeps the household who has an admiration for Mrs. Green, which she does not conceal. The richest woman in the United States has a son who has been spending some time in Florida seeking to improve his health. Mrs. Green has been a widow for many years, and her daughter is about twenty years old. Since the death of her husband Hetty Green has become a financier of unusual shrewdness. She has indicated by her actions that she has small faith in brokers, and that if she wants anything done the best way is to do it herself.

The weatherbeaten satchel has earned securities representing millions of dollars. It has knocked about New York and Brooklyn and other financial centers with precious burdens, and Hetty Green has always had a tight grip on it. She does not believe in piling her money on things she does not want, and as she wants very little she spends but little. Her children and her fortune are the sole object of her solicitude. Mrs. Green is said to be very anxious to have her daughter become one of the leading actors in the famous Four Hundred of Manhattan Island. Something of an obstacle in the way of this is the daughter herself, according to report, Miss Green is credited with caring as little for the dazzle and newspaper notoriety of a social career as her mother. She is a girl who tastes are quiet and to whom dress is a matter of little consideration.

Mrs. Green, by the way of a foundation for her daughter's social debut, some time ago settled a large sum of money on that young woman in Government bonds. The amount is stated to be $5,000,000.

Incidents in the career of this remarkable woman have stamped her as a bold yet cautious operator in stocks and securities. When the financial panic of 1884 occurred Mrs. Green had a large deposit in a firm of Canadian bankers named Clegg & Co., of New York. Information reached her that the bank was in an unsafe condition, and without waiting to hear more she went to the institution and withdrew her entire deposit. The firm had no alternative, and after paying her money was compelled to suspend and finally failed completely. Hetty Green is the largest property owner in the city of Chicago. She holds title to block after block of land in the business section, and her son assists in looking after her interest there. For many years she lived in the western metropolis, and she spends much of her time there when away from Brooklyn.

Her characteristics with ex-Judge Henry Hilton is fresh in the minds of financiers. The money which the judge wanted so badly is generally conceded to have been used in buying out the interest of his son, Henry G. Hilton in the dry goods firms of Hilton, Hughes & Co., and Hilton Bros. He went to Mrs. Green, or his lawyers did, and made a request for a loan of $1,250,000 in cash. Mrs. Green was willing to lend, but insisted on having a mortgage on the marble palace at

DRUNKENNESS AND MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO., 51, 53 & 55 Opera Block, LIMA, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for 1500 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured. Truly yours, MATTHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 46, CHICAGO, ILL.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I wanted to try your Tablets. It was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly, MRS. HELEN MORRISON, CHICAGO, ILL.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part.
